"Yours Be the Glory"

Yours be the glory, Jesus, Holy One,
Risen up in triumph, splendid as the sun.
To anoint your body grieving women came
And with joy departed, hast'ning to proclaim:
Yours be the glory, Mary's only Son,
Risen up in triumph, Jesus, Holy One!

Radiant you meet us, risen from the tomb,
Lovingly you greet us, scatter fear and gloom.
Let your Church with gladness hymns of triumph sing;
You live now among us; death has lost its sting.
Radiant you meet us, gracious as a groom;
Lovingly you greet us, risen from the tomb.

Yours be the glory, never-setting sun,
Star yet brightly burning when life's day is done!
Dawn breaks forth from darkness, overcoming night
Star of Morning glorious, flood our world with light!
Yours be the glory, God's beloved Son,
Star forever burning, never-setting sun!

Came, saw, ran, went: the Gospel accounts of the Resurrection are full of movement and action. Christ's rising from the dead set in motion an unstoppable chain of events, as the faithful women, then the disciples, and (little by little) the whole world are set running by the glorious news that Christ is risen. "There is an upward movement in the whole of creation," wrote St. Maximus of Turin in an Easter homily, "each element raising itself to something higher . . . In one and the same movement, our Savior's passion raises men from the depths, lifts them up from the earth, and sets them in the heights." The Good News should get us moving, too.
