Reflection

The first words out of Jesus' mouth when he appears to the disciples are "Peace be with you." This shalom is the greeting Jesus had taught the disciples to say whenever they entered a house. These are words that he had spoken over and over during his public life, as peace is at the heart of his message. This greeting epitomizes what all the followers of Christ are to live by. Gathered as they were, listening to the report of the disciples on the way to Emmaus, the disciples were startled and indeed terrified when Jesus suddenly appeared in their midst. Once he showed them proof that it was he, the disciples' terror turned to incredulous joy.
